Dear Sirs,

In response to your letter dated March 17, 2017, requesting technical reports for the dumping of all drilling and production fluids within the oil field that we operate. T B Oil Properties Inc. being the operators of the Wilmington field, Blinn Fault Block 1 lease and pool have never drilled a new well. To the best of my knowledge, we do not dump, nor have we ever dumped production fluids on the ground. The only production fluid we have other than crude oil, is waste water. Our waste water is pumped into a wash tank that separates the water from the oil and solids. From there the water goes to a holding tank. When we have accumulated enough water, it travels to a 3 stage clarifier, and finally into the sewer system. The solids are periodically vacuumed out of the wash tank and disposed of by the vacuum company.

We do not currently, nor have we ever owned or operated any sumps.
